The "One Another" Commands of the Bible

This morning, I am preaching the 3rd message in our new series, "Belonging to the Body of Christ." Last week, we saw that belonging to the Body of Christ calls for a commitment to the body of Christ, to one another, and to a ministry of service. Today, I want to go a little deeper and look at what it means to be devoted to one another in the body of Christ.

There are close to 60 verses in the New Testament that command us to "do" something towards one another. They are actions that we should do out of an overflow of our commitment to Jesus and to one another. Belonging to the Body of Christ means that we are devoted to one another and one way that we show we belong to the body of Christ is by obeying the "one another" commands. Love one another. Bear one another's burdens. Forgive one another. There are a lot of these "one another" commands. We show our commitment to Christ and to one another by "one-anothering" one another (say that 3 times really fast). So, let's spend some time in worship and encouraging one another today and let's hear what God has to say from His Word about being devoted to one another in the Body of Christ.
